

Dear Commisioner,
I was not surprised by th enews that Sinclair Broadcasting has decide to force its affiliates to braodcast an anti-Kerry documentary just a few weeks before the election. It is an appallingly clear example of what consolidation of media outlets can lead to.

Isn't Sinclair obligated by law to serve the public interest? When politically motivated broadcasters use the airwaves to advance their agenda, our democratic process is undermined.

Sinclair's actions should bring censure from the FCC, which can't possibly ignore this mis-use of the public airwaves. If CBS ran Farenheit451 as a documentary, there would and should be outrage and FCC sanctions. Sinclair's license renewal application ought to involve public hearings, not a rubber stamped approval notice. Please protect the airwaves from domination by a few media giants with more allegiance to corporations than to the public that they are supposed to serve. Thank you.
